Program Overview

The Regulated Health Professions Act (RHPA) sets out our responsibilities. Under this legislation, we are required to have a continuing competency program (CCP) for registered nurses that promotes high standards of knowledge, skill and ethical practice.

RNs complete the CCP every year. The program is an opportunity for you to reflect on your nursing practice and lead your own learning. Throughout the year, our CCP team is here to support you during the process.

What does the College already believe and assume?

- All RNs are committed to obtaining the knowledge, skill and judgment they need in order to provide safe, competent and ethical care.
- Self-reflection improves empathy, listening, critical thinking and decision-making skills. It also allows RNs to improve their communication with others and enhances their leadership qualities.
- RNs maintain and enhance their competence through self-reflection, lifelong learning and integrating that learning into their practice.
- RNs who take time to reflect on their practice provide quality nursing care.
- Manitobans expect RNs to be current and competent in their practice.
- Our Practice Expectations for RNs provide a foundation for the program and describe reasonable and prudent nursing practice.

We keep all information about an RN's continuing competency confidential. You can choose to share this information with your employer(s) if you wish. While the program is a requirement under legislation, it's also intended to support you in your professional development and commitment to lifelong learning.

What are the goals of the program?

The CCP has three goals:

1. Encourage self-reflection: RNs are able to assess their nursing practice by completing a self- assessment, as well as receive feedback on their practice from peers and clients. Through self-reflection, RNs will develop skills in self-directed learning, increase their motivation to learn and improve the quality of care they provide.
2. Enrich practice: RNs have the opportunity to learn something new that they can use in their practice.
3. Address learning needs: RNs demonstrate a commitment to lifelong learning by taking action on what they discover about their practice (i.e. through self-reflection, feedback from others and goal setting).

The program does:

- involve a team at the College who is committed to supporting RNs as they complete the program
- encourage RNs to reflect on their practice in relation to the practice expectations
- provide RNs with a framework to integrate self-directed learning into their practice
- provide RNs with the opportunity to obtain feedback about their practice from their colleagues and clients
- provide RNs with resources to maintain and enhance their practice in relation to the practice expectations
- ensure RNs are aware of relevant jurisprudence (i.e. legislation, regulations, standards, policies) that affects their practice

The program does not:

- assess an RN's fitness to practise
- assess if an RN is meeting the requirements of their current or former employment

Annual Requirements

Let's take a look at what RNs complete as part of the program.

Each year, you document your ongoing learning in our CCP forms, which have four parts:

1. Part A: Self-assessment: assess nursing practice through a questionnaire
2. Part B: Self-development plan: set self-directed learning goals, decide on learning activities and explain how they impact nursing practice
3. Part C: Jurisprudence learning module: complete the module and record any key learning concepts
4. Part D: Learning activities (optional): keep track of any extra learning activities completed beyond the self-development plan

In order to practise in the upcoming year, you need to renew your certificate of practice by Dec. 1. As part of this process, you need to complete parts A, B of these forms and the mandatory annual jurisprudence module. We'll dive into these components over the next few pages.

Part A: Self-Assessment

What is the purpose of a self-assessment?

The self-assessment allows you to reflect on and evaluate your practice in relation to the Practice Expectations. Remember, there are no right or wrong answers. Completing a self-assessment helps you identify your personal and professional strengths and any areas where you can improve. It also allows you to reflect on your own beliefs, attitudes and values and consider how they influence your practice.

Who is your client?

Identify who your client is before you complete your self-assessment. Your client is the beneficiary of your care and/or service and may be an individual, family, group, community or population. Remember, your client is also an important member of the entire health-care team.

In some clinical settings, client may be referred to as a patient or a resident. Depending on your registered nursing domain, client may also refer to a nursing student, research subject/participant or another RN or RN(NP).

You apply the nursing process in your practice, planning the needs of clients through assessment, diagnosis or determination, planning, implementation and evaluation. The principles of client-centred practice in a clinical practice setting also apply in other domains such as administration, education and research.

What else do you need to know?

- You must complete the self- assessment applicable to your membership class and notation (if applicable). If you changed membership class or received a new notation (e.g. RN(AP)) prior to October 1 you must complete the self-assessment for the membership class or notation you wish to renew.
- If you select “not applicable” to the indicators on your self-assessment, please get in touch with us as your practice may not be RN practice.
- Keep your forms for the required five years and compare your scores from one year to the next to evaluate if you are maintaining or improving your practice in relation to the practice expectations.
- Looking for more tips on how to reflect on your practice? See our self-assessment reflection exercise available on page 12.

Part B: Self-Development Plan

What is the purpose of a self-development plan?

A key goal of regulation is ensuring that RNs practise in a safe, competent and ethical manner. Registered nursing is a self-regulated profession, which means it's important we maintain high standards to serve and protect the public interest.

Participating in self-reflection and completing a self-development plan demonstrates to the public that you are engaged in lifelong learning and committed to enhancing your practice. By identifying learning goals and creating a plan to achieve those goals, you can focus on specific areas of your practice that you want to improve.

Your self-development plan gives you the opportunity to:

- grow as a professional by identifying a learning goal that is relevant to your practice setting, but one that is beyond what your employer requires you to complete (i.e. your learning needs to be self-directed so choosing a learning goal that your employer already requires you to do would not meet expectations)
- document how your learning impacted your practice and assess whether you met your goal

What are the components of the self-development plan?

Goal Setting

Set at least one learning goal to enhance your practice.

If you are having difficulty identifying a learning goal, consider asking yourself:

- What learning opportunities foster meaning and professional growth?
- What do I need to learn to enhance my practice?
- What can I learn to positively impact client care in my practice area?
- What am I curious about?

Consider beginning your statement with:

- I will learn how to...
- I will enhance my knowledge related to...
- I will develop the new skill of...

Make sure your learning goal will enhance your practice. Ask yourself:

- Will my goal increase my knowledge and understanding?
- Will my goal improve my problem-solving or critical thinking skills?
- Will my goal impact my attitude, feelings or emotions?
- Will my goal enhance my nursing practice?

If you answer “no” to all these questions, your goal may not be a learning goal. You are welcome to contact us if you need help creating a learning goal.

When setting a goal, we recommend you follow the SMART principle:

- Specific: Setting a specific learning goal will increase the chances of you being able to achieve your goal.
- Measurable: How will you know when you have achieved your goal? What results will you see when your goal is achieved?
- Attainable: Set a learning goal and learning activity that can be completed by Dec. 1 of the current year.
- Relevant: Is your learning goal related to your current role and responsibilities? If you are not currently working, make sure you choose a learning goal that helps prepare you for your return to work.
- Timely: Document an expected date of completion to keep yourself on track. Ensure you have enough time to complete and reflect on your learning before Dec. 1 of the current year.

An example of a SMART learning goal is: I will learn at least three signs or symptoms of caregiver stress and two interventions related to managing it by Oct. 1. This will help me provide enhanced care to families at risk of or who are already experiencing caregiver stress.

Learning Activities

Complete at least one learning activity related to your learning goal.

You need to complete your learning activities by Dec. 1 in order to meet the requirements to renew your certificate of practice for the upcoming year. Your learning activities can be formal or informal and may include:

- reading journal articles or textbooks
- attending workshops or conferences
- seeking peer feedback
- networking with subject matter experts
- attending seminars or in-services

- watching a video
- participating in a clinical case study
- enrolling in continuing education courses

Remember to include details of your learning, such as the title of the article you read, the date you went to a workshop or the name of the conference you attended. A reminder that you cannot use our jurisprudence learning module as a learning activity as it's a separate requirement for renewal.

Impact on Practice

Document the impact on your practice.

This section provides an opportunity for you to reflect on your learning and evaluate if you met your goal.

If you are currently working, you should allow enough time to integrate your learning into your practice before documenting it in this section of your forms. This will allow you to reflect upon and evaluate if integrating the learning enhanced your practice.

If you are not currently working, you can use this space to keep notes of key learning and create a plan for how you will integrate your learning into your practice when you return to work.

In order to begin the reflection process, you may consider asking yourself the following questions:

- What new information did I learn?
- Did I meet my goal?
- How do I know I met my goal?
- How am I integrating what I've learned into my practice?
- Did I share my new knowledge with others?
- What am I going to do differently?

We do not require additional proof (e.g. copies of journal articles) showing you completed your activities.

How can I evaluate my self-development plan to make sure it meets expectations?

The scoring rubric that is used to assess your self-development plan is available on page 11. We also provide some examples of self-development plans on page 12. Use these resources to make sure your self-development plan meets the criteria.

If you're still not sure that you completed your self-development plan correctly, feel free to get in touch with us so we can help. Remember, we're here to support you throughout this process.

Part C: Jurisprudence Learning Module

Jurisprudence is a legal term that refers to studying the law. For our purpose, jurisprudence is about ensuring you are aware of legislation, regulations, standards and policies that affect your registered nursing practice. You can use this section of the forms to take notes while completing the current year's required module.

More information about the jurisprudence learning module is available on our website.

Part D: Learning Activities (Optional)

Use this section to keep track of any learning activities you complete that are not related to your self-development plan in Part B.

CCP Planning Timeline

Below is a suggested timeline to help you plan and complete your CCP activities:

Dec. 1 - January	<ul style="list-style-type: none"> • Download the CCP forms for the upcoming year • Complete your self-assessment • Begin your self-development plan by setting at least one learning goal and activity
March	<ul style="list-style-type: none"> • Review and update your self-development plan • Is your learning goal still applicable? Are you on target to complete your learning activity?
April	<ul style="list-style-type: none"> • Complete the current year's jurisprudence learning module, and ensure your CRNM Profile shows the module is complete
July	<ul style="list-style-type: none"> • RNs selected to participate in the CCP review are notified by email
September	<ul style="list-style-type: none"> • Complete your self-development plan, including an explanation of how your learning impacted your practice
October - Dec. 1	<ul style="list-style-type: none"> • Complete your online renewal application • Ensure your CCP requirements are complete before you declare it on your online renewal application • Ensure you've completed the necessary jurisprudence learning module

Self-Development Plan Scoring Rubric

CCP reviewers use the following rubric to evaluate an RN or RN(NP)'s self-development plan.

Self-development plan	No	Yes	Exemplary
Does the self-development plan include a learning goal that enhances the quality of practice? (i.e. that goes above and beyond the learning that is required to maintain practice)	<ul style="list-style-type: none"> There is no learning goal listed The goal listed is too vague to provide evidence that a learning need was self-identified The goal listed is not relevant to the activities or impact 	<ul style="list-style-type: none"> The learning goal(s) is clearly self-directed, specific and directly related to the RN or RN(NP)'s learning activity(ies) and impact on practice It is recommended that goals be SMART (Specific, Measurable, Attainable, Relevant and Timely). However, SMART goals are not required.	<ul style="list-style-type: none"> The learning goal(s) is clearly self-directed, specific and directly related to the RN or RN(NP)'s learning activity(ies) and impact on practice The learning goal is unique or innovative
Does the self-development plan include evidence of at least one completed learning activity?	<ul style="list-style-type: none"> There is no evidence of a completed learning activity from Dec. 1 to Dec. 1 of the registration year 	<ul style="list-style-type: none"> A completion date between Dec. 1 to Dec. 1 of the registration year is documented Evidence exists within the impact on practice section regarding the completion of a learning activity within the previous year 	<ul style="list-style-type: none"> The specific titles and completion dates for the learning activity(ies) clearly relate to the goal and impact on the RN or RN(NP)'s practice
Does the self-development plan identify that completing the learning activity impacted or will impact the RN or RN(NP)'s practice?	<ul style="list-style-type: none"> There is no evidence of learning that impacted the RN or RN(NP)'s practice 	<ul style="list-style-type: none"> There is evidence that the RN or RN(NP) completed learning that impacted their practice 	<ul style="list-style-type: none"> The self-development plan had excellent flow, presentation and the impact on the RN or RN(NP)'s practice is clearly articulated It is evident that client care has been improved as a result of the RN or RN(NP)'s learning

CCP Review (and Multi-Source Feedback)

Each year, all RNs complete the CCP. In addition to this, some are selected to participate in the CCP review, which includes multi-source feedback.

The review is a supportive process and is not disciplinary in nature. Rather, it's an opportunity to learn more about your practice as you receive feedback from your clients and colleagues.

If you're required to complete the CCP review, including multi-source feedback, we'll notify you by email and send a package with detailed instructions to your preferred mailing address.

Continue reading through this workbook to learn more about the CCP review and multi-source feedback. Remember, you only have to complete multi-source feedback if you're selected for the review or have been referred to the program.

CCP Review Timeline

July	<ul style="list-style-type: none"> • RNs selected for the review are notified by email. If you receive an email letting you know you've been selected for the review, you should review this workbook in detail to learn more about what you'll need to do.
September - November	<ul style="list-style-type: none"> • Your multi-source feedback package is mailed to you. When you receive your package, follow the instructions in the included letter and use this workbook as a resource too. • Participate in multi-source feedback.
Oct. 1 - Dec. 1	<ul style="list-style-type: none"> • You are able to complete your online renewal application during this time. Before you log in to renew, make sure you have already completed Parts A and B of your CCP forms as you will be asked to enter this information into your online application. In mid-December, your self-development plan will be evaluated using the scoring rubric and we'll enter the results into our database.
January - February	<ul style="list-style-type: none"> • The results from multi-source feedback are collated and your multi-source feedback report is created. We email you these results in January or February. See the list of possible outcomes of the review on page 25.
March - May	<ul style="list-style-type: none"> • We follow up with anyone who did not meet the review requirements and work with them to complete next steps based on their outcomes.
May - June	<ul style="list-style-type: none"> • During this time, our Continuing Competency Committee reviews files of RNs who completed a competency-based interview and determines if there are any additional activities an RN still needs to complete. These activities may include completing course work, attending a workshop, writing a reflective paper, or any other remedial activity the Committee determines to be appropriate.

About Multi-Source Feedback

Multi-source feedback focuses on communication and professional behaviour. The multi-source feedback questions are based on the Entry-Level Competencies for Registered Nurses. Receiving feedback about these aspects of practice can help RNs meet the Practice Expectations.

The College exists to serve and protect the public interest, and multi-source feedback supports this:

- It empowers members of the public by giving them an opportunity to provide feedback on the care they received
- It enhances an RN's practice by providing them with valuable feedback from those directly impacted by their practice

What does the College already believe and assume?

- All RNs are committed to obtaining the knowledge, skill and judgment they need in order to provide safe, competent and ethical care.
- RNs practise according to the values and responsibilities in the Code of Ethics and other professional standards, laws and regulations supporting ethical practice.
- RNs are honest and practise with integrity in all their professional interactions.
- The public expects RNs to be current and competent in their practice.
- Our Practice Expectations for RNs provide a foundation for the program and describe reasonable and prudent nursing practice.

Goals

Multi-source feedback has several goals:

- Increase self-awareness
- Clarify behaviour
- Encourage personal/professional development
- Increase accountability
- Enhance performance

What You Need to Do

If you're required to complete multi-source feedback, here's what you'll need to do:

1. Read this workbook to assist you in completing multi-source feedback.
2. Follow the instructions in your notification email to:
 - a) confirm we have the correct address on file for you, and
 - b) identify the package you will need: clinical or non-clinical
 - i. clinical → you provide direct care to clients
 - ii. non-clinical → you do not provide direct care to clients

It may be helpful to review the questionnaires (clinical and non-clinical) to determine which set of questions is most applicable to your practice. You can find these samples on pages 27- 34.

There may be questions that are not applicable to your practice at all, but there should not be many of those. Ask yourself questions like “where do I spend the majority of my practice?” and “do I provide direct care to clients or not?”

If most of your work (i.e. over 75%) is spent directly with clients, you should choose the clinical package.

3. After you have completed steps one and two, we'll send you your unique multi-source feedback package in the mail to the address you provided. This typically occurs in September.
4. When you receive your package, your unique ID and password will be included in the notification letter.
Use these to log in to the multi-source feedback portal and complete your online self-assessment My Form at: nrg-surveys.com/s/nurses
NOTE: This self-assessment must be completed in addition to Part A of your CCP forms.
5. Hand out the envelopes to your colleagues and clients (if applicable).
6. Use the multi-source feedback portal to track your colleague responses and follow-up with your colleagues to ensure you receive the required minimum of six responses (please note: client responses are not tracked for confidentiality reasons and you should not follow-up with clients since the process is optional for them).
7. If you have any questions, contact us at ccp@crnm.mb.ca or 204-774-3477 ext 264.

Deferral

In order to participate in multi-source feedback, you must be currently working. If you are not or will not be working, you will need to complete the multi-source feedback deferral form and submit it to the College by the date indicated in your letter.

What is included in my multi-source feedback package?

Your package will include:

1. A notification letter containing your unique ID number and password
2. A colleague tracking sheet (blue)
3. 18 sealed client envelopes (for clinical RNs only)
4. 18 public awareness pamphlets (for clinical RNs only)
5. 10 sealed colleague envelopes

Do not open the sealed client and colleague envelopes. These envelopes contain:

- An instruction letter (see samples on pages 27 and 30)
- A multi-source feedback questionnaire (see samples on pages 28, 29 and 31)
- A self-addressed, postage-paid envelope for clients only.

Samples of these are included on the pages mentioned. The RN(NP) instructions and questionnaires are the same as the RN versions with the exception of reference to "RN(NP)" instead of "RN".

What do I do with the sealed envelopes?

1. Confirm that your unique ID number is correct on the sealed client and colleague envelopes. The ID number is visible in the window of the envelope. Do not open the envelope to check for the ID number.
2. Choose up to 10 colleagues to complete the questionnaires. At least six colleague questionnaires must be submitted to create your report.
3. Choose up to 18 clients to complete the forms (for clinical RNs only). At least eight client questionnaires are needed to create your report.

4. Provide the appropriate sealed envelopes to the selected colleagues/clients with instructions to complete and submit their questionnaire by the date indicated in your notification email. For RNs participating in the CCP review, the deadline to hand out the envelopes is Nov. 15 (our third party provider will receive completed questionnaires until Dec. 1).
5. Record the colleague envelope number on your colleague tracking sheet (blue sheet). You can do this:
 - a) Online: Log on to the multi-source feedback portal. Select the multi-source feedback forms link and then select the tracking page.
 - b) On paper: Write the envelope number and your colleague's name on the blue tracking sheet. Use the tracking sheet to record forms and update the status of the colleague forms.
6. Make sure you keep your blue tracking sheet. The College may randomly select participating RNs and RN(NP)s to engage in a validation process, which would require you to submit your blue tracking sheet to the College. The College would then contact some of the colleagues to verify their participation in the multi-source feedback process. You need to keep your tracking sheet for one year following completion of multi-source feedback.
7. If the sealed envelope was not sealed closed or if you opened an envelope by mistake, you may not use that envelope to give to a colleague or client.

Who are colleagues?

Colleagues are both regulated and unregulated health-care providers you interact with in person or on the phone and may include:

- RNs or RN(NP)s
- Staff who report to you
- Your manager or supervisor
- Reception or administration support staff
- Other health-care providers (i.e. LPNs, RPNs, physicians, occupational therapists, physiotherapists, dieticians, pharmacists)

Choose colleagues who are familiar with your role and can provide constructive feedback. Please use your professional judgment to determine appropriate colleagues to complete the forms.

Who are clients?

For the purposes of multi-source feedback, a client is a member of the public who you will provide nursing services to at any time over the period that you have been given to participate in multi-source feedback. Client may also include a caregiver, family member of the client or substitute decision-maker who is familiar with the client care you provided. You cannot contact previous clients to complete the multi-source feedback questionnaire. Accessing client records for the purposes of multi-source feedback could be considered a breach of client confidentiality.

When you approach clients to complete the questionnaire, advise them the information will be kept confidential, and that you will not be seeing their responses. Please advise clients that their responses will not affect current or future services/care they receive. A public awareness pamphlet (see example on page 34) is included in your package and we encourage you to hand this out to your clients when asking them to complete the questionnaires.

We know that some RNs may feel hesitant to ask clients to complete a questionnaire. Keep in mind that in most situations, these individuals want to provide feedback on the care they have received. RNs empower clients by giving them the right to choose to participate in this process.

How are the questionnaires submitted?

Clients can complete the questionnaires in one of two ways:

- a) Online: Unique access code and user ID are enclosed in the sealed envelope, or
- b) On paper: clients seal the completed questionnaire in the self-addressed, postage-paid envelope. They also need to initial the back of the envelope to ensure added security. Envelopes received with a broken seal will not be included in the overall results. Clients can also return the completed questionnaire to you, sealed in the self-addressed, postage-paid envelope so you can mail it.

Colleagues must complete the questionnaire online.

Feedback Questionnaires

Multi-source feedback is designed to collect information about your professional interactions and evaluate your knowledge, skill and judgment related to professional behaviours and communication skills.

There are four types of questionnaires:

1. My Form self-assessment questionnaire (available online only) – *this is an opportunity for you to reflect on your practice in relation to the Entry-Level Competencies and is separate from the self-assessment in your CCP forms
2. Clinical colleague questionnaire (available online only)
3. Non-clinical colleague questionnaire (available online only)
4. Client questionnaire*

If you work in a non-clinical setting, you will not receive any client envelopes in your package.*

Each questionnaire consists of a series of statements that describe the practice expectations of an RN. The questionnaires are meant to be relevant to different roles and practice settings and are developed in user-friendly terms for ease of completion. Colleagues and clients rate each statement on a nine-point scale.

If a statement doesn't apply to your practice, the client or colleague can select NA ("not applicable"). This does not negatively impact your result.

What needs to be completed in order to create my report?

- 1 My Form questionnaire
- 6 colleague questionnaires
- 8 client questionnaires (if you provide direct client care) in order to receive client feedback in your report

Our expectation is that you will receive the minimum number of client responses (if applicable). However, if you do not, this will not impact your ability to renew your certificate of practice. Possible outcomes of the CCP Review can be found on page 25.

Why do I need to submit this many forms?

Research shows this number of forms submitted will ensure stable, meaningful and anonymous results.

Tips for Handing out the Questionnaires

- Approach your clients and colleagues as soon as possible.
- Ask more than the required number of people to complete them.
- Inform clients/colleagues of the deadline to submit their questionnaires.
- Inform clients/colleagues that it only takes about 10 minutes to complete the questionnaire and that their input is used to help enhance nursing practice.
- Inform clients/colleagues that this process is confidential and individual responses are not shared with you.
- If needed, ask a client's caregiver, family member or substitute decision maker who is familiar with the care you provided to complete the questionnaire on behalf of your client.

Confidentiality

The College has taken steps to ensure confidentiality with this process.

1. There is no information on the questionnaires to identify your colleagues or clients. When you receive your results, it will be a summary of all the feedback gathered.
2. The information collected from the multi-source feedback will not be shared with anyone outside of the College. This means employers will not receive a copy of your results. If you want to share them with your manager/employer, this is your choice.

In accordance with Council policy AA-5, evidence of continuing competency submitted by registrants will not be used in matters related to complaints arising outside the College, shall not be released to the College's Complaints Investigation Committee, investigators, practice auditors or a panel of the College's Inquiry Committee, or at an appeal arising under The Regulated Health Professions Act.

Your Results

How will I receive my results?

Your results will be available via a report in the multi-source feedback portal. The College will notify you when your report is ready.

Reading the Report

The multi-source feedback results are separated into three groups, each with their own set of results:

- Client (only for RNs in clinical practice)
- Colleagues
- My Form

The results are displayed as follows:

- Your Score: The average rating you received based on the responses submitted.
- Peer Score: The benchmark to which your score is compared to, and is based on the average score of all RNs who have participated in multi-source feedback.

To assist with the interpretation of your individual results, the report includes three symbols. These symbols are visual cues to assist with the identification of competency areas and how the rating you received from your clients and colleagues compares to the benchmark.

<ul style="list-style-type: none">• This is an indication your individual rating on this competency is very close to the benchmark.• This is an opportunity for you to reflect on how you can maintain this level of practice.	<ul style="list-style-type: none">• This is an indication your individual rating on this competency is somewhat below the benchmark.• This is an opportunity for you to reflect on how you could improve in this competency.	<ul style="list-style-type: none">• This is an indication that you should address this competency. Reflect on why you may have scored lower on this competency and make plans to take action to improve your score.• You can contact the CCP Team if you need assistance finding resources to address these competencies.

We have provided these symbols in an effort to allow you to identify specific competency areas that are below or markedly below the benchmark and are areas you should focus on to enhance your quality of practice.

Interpreting the Report

Colleague

6. Ethics

- Compare your client and colleague results to the benchmark of all RNs and RN(NP)s who participated in multi-source feedback.
- Reflect on which areas you individually scored highest and lowest on.
- Reflect on how you might enhance or maintain your quality of practice.
- Reflect on your My Form results and consider how you rated yourself compared to how your colleagues rated you. Think about why there may be a difference.
- It may be useful to discuss your results with a trusted colleague. Consider asking a colleague to:
 - review your results with you and make constructive suggestions based on the results, and/or
 - observe you in direct practice and provide constructive feedback on how you can improve.

Applying your results to practice

Update your Self-Assessment and Self-Development Plans

Use the results to inform your self-assessment in your CCP forms and to help provide focus to your learning goals when completing your self-development plan.

How the College uses the Results

The College will use the results only within the context for which you were referred for multi-source feedback. For example, if you are selected for the continuing competency program review, your results will be compared to a threshold score.

What is a threshold score?

Norms are statistics that are derived from a selected group and are used as a measure in a standardized way. They stand for a normal frequency distribution representing the probability that a majority of randomly selected RNs will fall within the middle of the distribution. Norms allow you to compare your scores to other RNs who have participated in multi-source feedback.

Threshold or cut-off results are based on two statistical concepts:

1. Z-score – a “standardized score”. A z-score tells how a single point of data compares to the norm. It indicates whether the point is above or below the average and how unusual the measurement is from the norm.
2. Percentile Rank – establishing a relative position of a person’s score, compared to other people’s scores.

A Z-score is calculated for each RN who participates in the process. The College then establishes the percentile which is used as the cut-off score. RNs and RN(NP)s who are below the cut-off score may be required to do a further in-depth assessment.

CCP Review Outcomes

What are the possible results of the review of your self- development plan?

CCP reviewers use the scoring rubric to evaluate self-development plans submitted online during renewal. There are four possible outcomes for a self-development plan:

1. Exemplary: This result means the self-development plan met all requirements and has excellent flow, presentation and/or innovative qualities. Registrants whose self-development plans are identified as exemplary are asked if a de-identified version of their self-development plan can be posted to the College website as examples for other registrants.

A minimum of two CCP reviewers (Quality Practice Consultants) must reach consensus, using the scoring rubric, for a self-development plan to be determined as exemplary.

2. Met: This result means the self-development plan has met the requirements of the program. The self-development plan demonstrates planned learning and integration of learning into practice. All three questions on the scoring rubric are “yes”. No further follow-up required.
3. Met with recommendation: This result means the self-development plan demonstrates completion of a learning activity and integration of learning into practice; however, there is room for improvement. The self-development plan is missing a learning goal and/or there is a lack of flow between the goal, activities and impact. Recommendation to refer to available CCP resources will be provided. No further follow-up required.
4. Not Met: This result means the self-development plan does not demonstrate evidence of self-directed learning or integration of learning into practice. Registrants whose self-development plans are identified as not met are provided additional support to meet the program requirements and will be required to submit their self-development plan on the following year’s registration renewal application.

A minimum of two CCP reviewers (Quality Practice Consultants) must reach consensus, using the scoring rubric, for a self-development plan to be determined as not met.

What are the possible results of multi-source feedback?

Multi-source feedback results are collated and provided in a report. Each registrant receives a summary of feedback received from colleagues and clients (if applicable). This feedback is compared to the cumulative average score of all nurses who have participated in multi-source feedback. This average score is the benchmark that determines if further follow-up is required. There are five possible outcomes for multi-source feedback:

1. Complete - Above Benchmark: This result means the minimum number of colleague and client (if applicable) responses were received and the results are above the benchmark (the average score of all nurses who have participated in multi-source feedback). No further follow-up required.
2. Complete - Below Benchmark: This result means the minimum number of colleague and client (if applicable) responses were received but the results are below the benchmark (the average score of all nurses who have participated in multi-source feedback). The next step is to complete a competency-based interview.
3. Partial Complete - Above Benchmark: If engaged in the clinical stream of multi-source feedback, this result means the minimum number of responses to create a full report could not be reached, and the report is above the benchmark (the average score of all nurses who have participated in multi-source feedback). The next step is to write a reflective five to seven page (double-spaced) paper on the value of client and/or colleague feedback. The paper must describe how the registrant engaged in the process, how they can or have used feedback to enhance their practice, and how they actively work to obtain client and family and/or colleague feedback and incorporate it in to their practice.
4. Partial Complete - Below Benchmark: If engaged in the clinical stream of multi-source feedback, this result means the minimum number of responses to create a full report could not be reached, and the report is below the benchmark (the average score of all nurses who have participated in multi-source feedback). The next steps are to:
 - a. Complete a competency-based interview.
 - b. Write a reflective five to seven page (double-spaced) paper on the value of client and/or colleague feedback. The paper must describe how the registrant engaged in the process, how they can or have used feedback to enhance their practice, and how they actively work to obtain client and family and/or colleague feedback and incorporate it in to their practice.
5. Incomplete: This result means the minimum number of colleague and client (if applicable) responses were not received. The next steps are to:
 - a. Complete a competency-based interview.
 - b. Write a reflective five to seven page (double-spaced) paper on the value of client and/or colleague feedback. The paper must describe how the registrant engaged in the process, how they can or have used feedback to enhance their practice, and how they actively work to obtain client and family and/or colleague feedback and incorporate it in to their practice.

Dear colleague,

Your registered nurse or registered nurse (nurse practitioner) colleague is asking you to provide feedback on their communication and professional behaviour by completing an online questionnaire.

Why are you being asked to complete this questionnaire?

The College of Registered Nurses of Manitoba (the College) is responsible for ensuring the public receives safe, competent and ethical nursing practice. The College monitors this through the continuing competency program. Multi-source feedback is a part of this program.

Please note:

- The information you provide is anonymous and confidential. You will not need to provide your name or any personal information.
- The RN will not see your responses.

Other colleagues will also provide feedback on the RN's communication and professional behaviour. Once all of this information is collected, the RN will receive a report which will help them identify areas of strength and/or areas where they could improve their nursing practice.

How to complete the questionnaire

The questionnaire should take you about 10 minutes to complete online. Here's how to complete it:

1. Go to www.nrg-surveys.com/CRNMColleagueClinical
2. Enter your unique user ID and password (found at the top of this letter)
3. Read each statement and then rate the RN

Please complete the questionnaire by Nov. 15, 2019.

We support a culture of continuous improvement. If you have any questions or suggestions for improvement, please contact the CCP team at 204-789-2264 or ccp@crnm.mb.ca.

Thank you for helping us to ensure Manitobans receive safe, competent and ethical registered nursing practice.

Sincerely,

Continuing Competency Program Team

Dear Client,

Your registered nurse or registered nurse (nurse practitioner) is asking you to give feedback on their communication and professional behaviour. You can share your feedback by filling out a questionnaire.

Why are you being asked to do this?

The College of Registered Nurses of Manitoba wants to make sure you receive safe, competent and ethical nursing care. We monitor this through our continuing competency program, which includes a process called multi-source feedback.

Please note:

- The information you provide in the questionnaire is anonymous and confidential. You will not need to provide your name or any personal information.
- The RN or RN(NP) will not see your responses.
- Your participation is voluntary.

Other clients will also provide feedback on the RN or RN(NP)'s communication and professional behaviour. Once all of this information is collected, the RN or RN(NP) will receive a report which will help them identify areas of strength and areas where they may improve in their nursing practice.

How to complete the questionnaire

The questionnaire should take you about 10 minutes to complete. You can complete it online or use the enclosed paper form.

Online

1. Go to www.nrg-surveys.com/CRNMClient
2. Enter your unique user ID and password (found at the top of this letter)
3. Read each statement and then rate the RN

Paper

1. Using an ink pen, read each statement and then clearly circle the appropriate rating number
2. Place the completed form into the self-addressed, postage paid envelope and seal the envelope
3. Initial the flap of the envelope
4. Either mail the envelope yourself, or give it back to the RN or RN(NP) who will mail the sealed envelope for you

Please complete the questionnaire by Nov. 15, 2019.

We support a culture of continuous improvement. If you have any questions or suggestions for improvement, please contact the CCP Team at 204-789-2264 or ccp@crnm.mb.ca. Thank you for helping us ensure Manitobans receive safe, competent and ethical registered nursing care.

Giving feedback on your registered nurse

Your feedback matters. That's why your registered nurse (RN) or nurse practitioner (RN(NP)) has asked you to complete a questionnaire about the care they provided to you or a family member. Completing the questionnaire lets your RN or RN(NP) know what they're doing well and what they could do better. Your feedback will be anonymous.

How does it work?

STEP 1

Give your feedback

Complete the questionnaire online or on paper. Instructions are in the envelope your RN or RN(NP) gave you. It will take you about 10 minutes to complete the questionnaire and you can complete it any time before Nov. 15, 2019.

STEP 2

Your RN or RN(NP) learns from your feedback

The feedback you provide is anonymous and confidential. We'll gather feedback on the RN or RN(NP)'s practice from other patients and your RN or RN(NP) will only see a final report of all the feedback they received.

STEP 3

Better care for patients

Your RN or RN(NP) will use the feedback to identify what they're doing well and where they can improve. The goal of this feedback is to improve the care they give to their patients.

Need help?

If you need help filling out the questionnaire, you can ask a caregiver, friend or family member to help you. If you need help mailing out the questionnaire, you can ask your RN or RN(NP) to mail it for you after you seal and initial the postage paid envelope.

The College of Registered Nurses of Manitoba is the regulatory body for all registered nurses and nurse practitioners in Manitoba. Together with RNs and RN(NP)s we serve and protect the public interest. For more information about the College, visit crnm.mb.ca.
